

Andrea Monti appointed as editor of Oggi, while Andrea Rossi becomes editor of *Max

Milan, 28 October 2008 – Official procedures have begun for the appointment by RCS Periodici of the new editors of Oggi and Max.

The new editor of Oggi will be Andrea Monti, who is currently editor of Max. Andrea Monti has a long, successful track record in news magazines, TV journalism and current affairs, including at editorial level, and in the past year has been responsible for the successful restyling of Max.

Andrea Rossi, currently assistant editor of Max, will now become its editor. He has many years' experience at the magazine, and at RCS Periodici, which he joined in 1990.

At the same time, Pino Belleri will step down as editor of Oggi and will take on an important role at the RCS Group. The RCS Group would like to thank Pino Belleri for his great commitment and valuable contribution to Oggi, and previously to Visto, and would like to express its high opinion of his professional and personal qualities as he continues to work for the group.

For further information:
Giovanni Ruvolo
RCS Periodici press office
tel. +39 02 2584 3037
giovanni.ruvolo@guest.rcs.it